

2010 Teen Masters National Finalist Corporate Partnership Program

Mastering Sport — Mastering Life

For fourteen years, the Teen Masters has prepared America's teenagers for the challenges of life through the sport of bowling. Today's economy presents an immediate challenge to the families of teens who aspire to compete for their share of an estimated $100,000 in college scholarships and the title of best teenage bowler in the USA: Affording the expenses associated with competing in the 2010 national championships.

The Teen Masters invites your company to showcase its community commitment and social responsibility by partnering with an athlete in the 2010 Teen Masters. In return for its support, your company will be recognized as the Corporate Partner of one national finalist and receive the following exposure:

Bronze Partner — $100

- Souvenir Program Listing* — Each Corporate Partner will be listed in a special keepsake Teen Masters souvenir program.

Silver Partner — $250

- Corporate Partner Wall of Fame* — Special screens will display the names of our Silver and Gold Corporate Partners throughout championship week.
